The system receives a transaction type specifier specifying one of the types of transactions in the communications system, employing the communications system to obtain information about transaction from at least one entity involved in the transaction to at least one other entity involved in the transaction as required by the transaction algorithm. The major difference between applicant's invention and Fraser (either separately or in combination) is that Fraser does not disclose or suggest an Internet billing method claimed within applicant's independent claims, where by the steps by a third party to purchase the transaction of include the combination of, as in claims c) providing a communications link through the equipment of the third party between the purchasing customer and the selling vendor to permit the purchasing customer to communicate over the Internet with the selling vendor concerning the purchase transaction d) recieveing authorization over the Internet from the purchasing customer to charge the first amount to the purchasing customer without previously receiving a request from the selling vendor to charge the first amount to the purchasing customer: e) charging the first amount to the purchasing customer in accordance with the billing agreement; and f) remitting the second amount to the selling vendor in accordance with the remitting agreement;

Art Unit: 3624

Wherein after establishing the billing agreement the third party does not transfer ownership of the product or service from the selling vendor to the purchasing customer

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
